

SPIDER'S WEB

I'm feeling tangled
Silky web clinging to my skin
I'm caught and dangled
Naked like the original sin

No use to fight it
My ties tighten with each move
Think I'll invite it
And I've got nothing to lose

Save me from you, and it'll save me from myself
Save me from you and it'll save me from myself
One false move and now I'm in your spider's web
Where no one can hear me at all

I was just flying Happy bug soaring on the wind web shined like diamonds heart fluttered and I threw myself in
